(RCC) status in relaxation of Government policy of recognizing only one RCC in each State under National Cancer Control Programme. Since Indira Gandhi Institute of Medical Sciences, Patna, was already recognized as Regional Cancer Centre for Bihar and that the issue of recognizing second RCC in a State was under scrutiny of Supreme Court in a similar case where the Government has taken a clear stand that only one institute can be recognized in a State and hence subjudice, it was considered appropriate to await the decision of the Supreme Court

The National Cancer Control Programme was revised during the 10th Plan period and under the revised guidelines, only Government institutions are eligible to be recognized as New Regional Cancer Centres and accordingly the institute can not be recognized as additional RCC for the State of Bihar.
